GM's Welcome

Seletar HHH celebrates one thousand, one hundred and thirteen runs since its inception this year, slightly over 24 years since the chapter was founded way back in June 1980.

We have come a long way since those days in Singapore where 25 mad fellows went around from run-site to run-site with a song in their heart and a car boot full of beer!

Boasting a membership of over 200 hashmen today, we still make no apologies for a life well lived in beer, running and song.

Known as the "KIV @ Garden" Committee, it is a wonder that we have done much to date, with the 1313th run one of many events that we hope will help make this an excellent running year for Seletar and its guests.

It is in this spirit that I invite you, our honored guests, to join us in celebrating our 24th anniversary and 1313 runs to date. If we had followed the original run-date on Tuesday, we would have celebrated our 1313th run on the 13th of the month – what odds that, but it would have been a lesser event without our fellow hashmen from the other chapters in Singapore and around the region.

Finally, apart from our being one of the chapters proudest of the hash motto "Drinkers with a running problem", I am also pleased to say that Seletar is a hash with a heart, raising well over $500,000 for the less fortunate over the last 24 years.

My thanks goes to all who have managed to attend this run, and to the committee under Suku Lian and our advertisers and hashmen who have donated their time and their beer to make this happen.

Lightning strikes, surges and transients - an ever present danger!

Why risk it, install protection.

Today more than ever, industry and commerce is highly reliant on sensitive electronic systems and equipment.

While everyone knows a direct lightning strike is potentially lethal to personnel and property, an induced surge can be equally as destructive. Surges travelling on incoming power and communications lines, can destroy unprotected systems and equipment, which are vital for day to day operations.

Chairman of the 1313th Run's Welcome

“Seletar is on the piss again!”

We have survived yet another milestone in our hashstory, having staged 1312 runs to date over the last 24 years! And now we thank you for joining us in our hashstoric 1313th run!

It's been some time since Seletar has opened its doors far and wide, and we have planned a massive piss-up for all harriers and harriets alike!

It is my great pleasure to be able to thank all who have helped make this event happen, from;

- our sponsors and advertisers, to
- our hashmen who have donated their life-blood (they slit their wrists and wholesome beer flowed out!), to
- my committee members who spent most nights mooching beer off the Organizing Chairman, and
- last and certainly not the least, to all harriers and harriets who have come to help us celebrate our event!

So come, my fellow harriers and harriets, let your hair down, and let the party begin!

Past Committees of Seletar Hash House Harriers

Although Seletar Hash had its inaugural run in 1980, the 1986 Committee was the first to adopt a name, to distinguish themselves from all the committees before them. During the AGM that year, some of the incoming committee members wore one of those silly jester's hats to look like clowns. One of the committee members was Playboy Chew, who then decided that their committee will henceforth be known as the "Horny" Committee.

In the following year, Jimmy Mohan took over as the Grand Master (GM). He decided that he was not going to do "anything" for the hash during his term, so he named his committee the "Laid Back" Committee.

After an uneventful year, when the next AGM came around in 1988, the members had many points to direct at the incoming committee. Being a liar, I mean lawyer, the new GM, Toddy Mama, gave the standard answer to every question that came from the floor. He told each and everyone: "I shall look into it". Thus, the "Look Into" Committee was born.

In 1989, Fatso Fer decided to run for Grand Master again. As someone who never lives up to his promises, Fatso Fer decided not to give his committee a name so that he does not have anything to live up to.

In 1990, Sayeting took over as GM. Being the serious type, he introduced all kinds of rules and regulations. Members will be fined if they did not do this, or that. Many of these rules and regulations were not particularly popular and the committee members did not want to go down in history as the ones who ruined the traditions of the Seletar Hash. So, they did everything behind the scene and this committee was known as the "Phantom" Committee. When I asked Sayeting if that was how they got the name, he denied everything. As a matter of fact, he told me he does not even remember who were on his committee. This whole committee kind of disappeared into thin air.

Popeye could not stand it anymore, so in 1991, he stepped up to run for the post of GM. He promised to bring the Seletar Hash back to the basics. "We are all here to drink and be merry, and maybe put in a bit of running sometime," he said, and so he named his committee the "Back to Basics" Committee.

Our next GM, Gigi, upheld the club's tradition of being a drinking club with a running problem, so he held all his committee meeting in the coffee shop located in Blk 227 in Ang Mo Kio. However, you can bet your bottom dollar that the "AMK" Committee were not drinking coffee.

In 1993, the hash cash was spending way too much money paying fines for littering, so the new GM, Kichi Bayii, introduced flour to replace shredded paper for run setting, and he named his committee the "Flour Power" Committee.

Our next GM, Palerider, came away from the Star Wars movie, so engrossed with the Force, that he went up Mount Bukit Timah, and he returned with a Light Sabre. He protected all of us during our runs with this light sabre and his committee was called "The Light".

In 1995, Boo Chee Bai, was having such a good time as the GM, that his term past very quickly. Before he had a chance to name his committee, the AGM came around and he had to pass the rein over to the next committee.

1996 was the Year of the Rat. For lack of any better name, the incoming GM Sayeting conveniently named his committee the "Rat Pack".

Our next GM was Red Baron. He might have wanted to call his committee, the Red Baron committee, but with objections from the other committee members, he had to settle for "Red Bull" Committee.

1998 saw a new phenomenon in the Seletar Hash. Led by the new GM, Suku, several members of the hash would divert from the actual run and instead end up in a coffee shop somewhere near by and indulge themselves with the golden liquid. Suku was even proud to call his committee the "Kopitiam" Committee.

When 1999 came around, the incoming GM, Kichi Bayii, felt for sure that all the club's records would be wiped out by the Y2K bug. He wanted to carve himself a name in history, so he named his committee, the "Y2K" Committee just so that no one will forget his accomplishment.

Year 2000 was the Year of the Dragon. The GM, Tomato Gan, whose brain cells were burnt out by drinking Bourbon with a straw through his nose, simply called his committee the "Dragon" Committee.

Our next GM, Champ, couldn't wait to abuse his power. He regularly calls everyone a bastard and slings shit at everyone in the circle. The On-Sec had a lot of trouble passing the "mood check" on his e-mail software, so the committee was known as the "Basturd" Committee.

Lobang took over as GM in 2002. Being the flashy guy that he is, anything and everything goes in the hash and he wanted his committee to be known as the "Cowboy" Committee. We were lucky to get through the year without being de-registered from the Registrar of Societies. However, he left our hash coiffeurs deep in the red.

Last year, new GM Never Come came instead. He rose above the clouds like a ray of hope. He promised to bring the hash back to the promise land and he called his committee the "Crepuscular" Committee. But he never finished the job he set out to do, and so, our present committee, led by Kreta-api, had to form a "Mismanagement" Committee to clean up the mismanagement left over by the last committee.

So, where do we go from here? What kind of Committee can bring us back to the basics, where we get to drink a lot, sing a few songs, and periodically even put in a run? Who knows and who cares. Having run with the Seletar Hash since 1980, it is the diversified committees in the colorful history of our hash that kept me coming back, week after week on Tuesdays, come rain or shine.

AUTISM SPECTRUM DISORDER

What is Autism? & How Common is Autism?

AUTISM is a severely incapacitating lifelong developmental disability that typically appears during the first three years of life. The current estimate of the number of people with an ASD from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention in the USA is 2 to 6 per 1,000. In Singapore the figure will be in the region of 56 per 10,000 of the total population. It is four times more common in boys than girls. It has been found throughout the world in families of all racial, ethnic and social backgrounds.

What causes ASD?

There is no theory of the cause of autism which everyone has found convincing. There may be multiple causes. No known factors in the psychological environment of a child have been shown to cause autism. The symptoms could be caused by neurological or physical disorders of the brain.

What are the characteristics?

Children with ASD do not look any different from other people and sometimes this leads us to refer to autism as the "invisible disability" This makes awareness more problematic.

Everyone with ASD has impairments, in varying degrees, in three distinct areas referred to as the Triad of Impairments:

- Social & Emotional Understanding - Abnormal ways of relating to people, objects and events
- Communication - Speech and language are absent or delayed while specific thinking capabilities might be present.
- Lack of Flexibility - Rituals and routines bring order to chaos and confusion and also provide a sense of comfort.

Most individuals with ASD exhibit abnormal responses to sensations. Any one or a combination of senses or responses is affected: sight, hearing, touch, pain, balance, smell, taste, and the way a child holds his body.

Impairments in Communication and Social Interaction and the cognitive difficulty in understanding what is expected of them produce a range of behavior that behaviors that are challenging or disruptive and have become linked with autism spectrum disorders. Studies have shown that Autism is

NOT a form of mental illness
NOT a result of bad parenting
NOT due to psychological trauma
NOT due to an impoverished environment
NOT contagious
NOT a gift of intelligence

How is Autism Treated?

AUTISM IS TREATABLE -- Early diagnosis and intervention are vital to the future development of the child. Today, more than ever before, people with autism can be helped. A combination of early intervention, special education, family support, and in some cases, medication, is helping increasing numbers of children with autism to live more normal lives. A child who receives effective therapy and education has every hope of using his or her unique capacity to learn.

From the other side of Seletar Hash House Harriers

For the last years, every Tuesday night I pondered the same question over again: "Sweet Jesus, what in the world is driving me to all this craziness, time and time again?": A tropical rainstorm looming on the horizon, no breeze to blow away that oppressive heat, 100% humidity, the prospect of running for exactly 1:14.59 through the remains of some long-deserted Kampong, knee deep in slowly rotting jungle vegetation (shiggy) and waist deep through pools of smelly stagnant water. And then endless sessions, sitting on a block of ice, until my bollocks were frozen, drinking down-down penalties for some elegantly engineered accusation that was as close to the truth as the fact that Ichibawa-San never short-cutted.

What is it, that makes me willingly pay the price of sleeping in the dog house every Tuesday night because the missus can't stand the stench I bring home - a mixture of sweat, beer, mud and garlic, sometimes laced with a waft of cold cigar smoke. And that god forsaken hangover EVERY Wednesday morning, my tongue scarcely more than a piece of dried, cracked leather sticking to the top of my gum, my balls only just thawed?

To be sure, I had found many answers during my 8 years and two tenures as Whip with this honorable establishment called the Seletar Hash House Harriers. However those answers were superficial excuses really: some regular exercise will do me a world of good, an occasional beer with some friends maybe twice as much.

And the one excuse that worked best at home, at least for the first 12 months or so: "...got many important people lah! ...Give me lots of face for my new job lah!" - Until the missus saw right through it and asked me to introduce her to Fuckawee and Suku to actually see what the Hash could possibly be doing for me and my job.

Coincidentally that was also the time when I was looking at a more permanent move into the dog-house. I had already convinced the maid to put bacon and eggs and coffee in the dog-bowl for Wednesday morning breakfast!

But the real reason why I was so drawn to the hash, I only found out much later when I had already left SHHH, settled the family in our new home and was really busting for a hash run. I decided it was time to recci the local hash scene.

The Bonn Hash House Harriers were highly recommended and so on one Sunday morning, early April, I took the car and ventured out to find the run site. It took me almost an hour to get there - not because the traffic was heavy or the site was so difficult to find but because it was so dam far away. An hour in a car, by German standards will get you approximately 100 km away - that's 5 times the distance between Far East Shopping Center on Orchard Rd. and Ponggol 17th Ave!

By the time I got there it was almost time to get the pack started. Already a fairly large turn-out (all 13 Members must have been there ) had gathered and were intently listening to the directions given by the hares. Then, at dot 3pm "On On" was called and we started out on the run. I could have done without the freezing temperatures that were logged at 7 degrees Centigrade - about as much as you would ever have in your refrigerator. I was assured that in winter they run OVER, not through the ponds as we do in Singapore. All I could think of was: "Christ!."

Just to avoid any misconception: The boys were great and the run was really good and for all intents and purposes, a most refreshing one.

The Circle however was somewhat small and I was disappointed that down downs were dispensed in thimbles. I was told that this was an unfortunate necessity because here in Germany DUI is a most serious offence, invariably resulting in loss of license and heavy fines. This is also the reason why wives are usually convinced to wait for hours in the car only to drive their staggering husbands home to avoid confrontation with the law. Thank God I bought that multimedia-car-stereo-set before I left Singapore so the missus could watch a TV show while waiting.

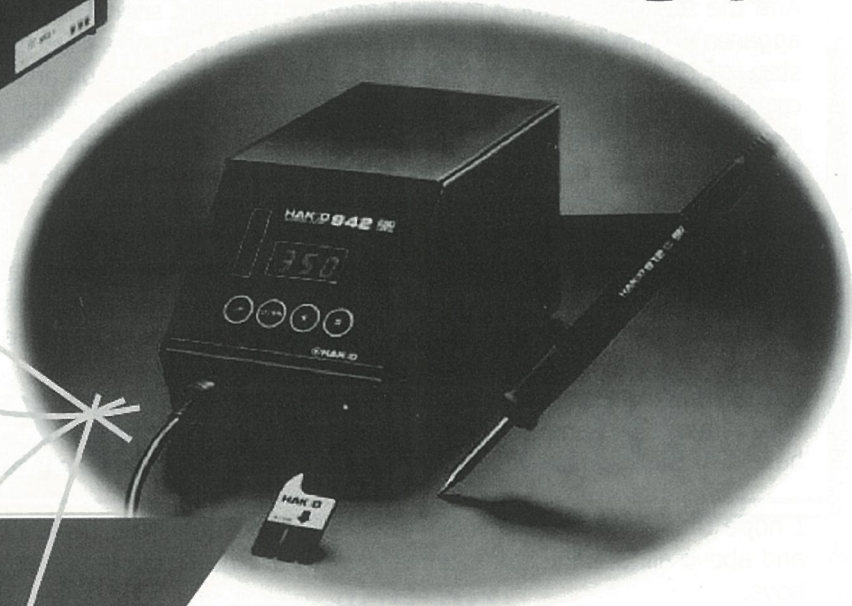

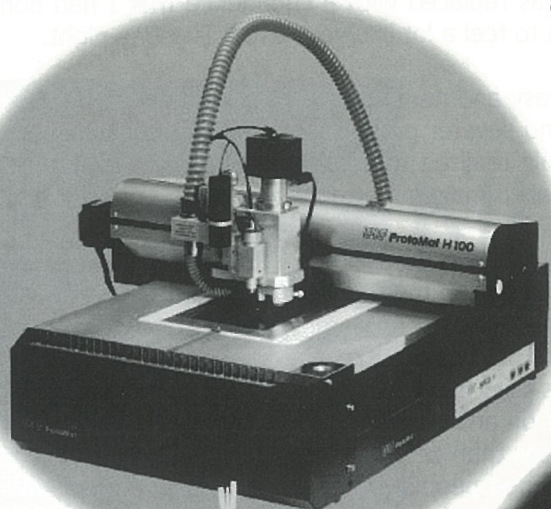

Having identified myself as an ex Whip it was inevitable that I was invited as mystery whip... and boy did I show them whipping Singapore style... much to the distress of the waiting wives who thought that the devil himself had appeared.

Providence had already encouraged me to some preparation. So for weeks I had used our little ice-cube maker to produce a small quantity of ice that would just barely serve as a seat. You cannot buy ice in Germany because it is so fucking freezing for three quarters of the year anyway. In Singapore ice was also used to cool the beer. Here in Germany they use warm water just to stop the beer from freezing over. A good dousing of cold water – Seletar style - while on ice would instantly render the perpetrator immobile and frozen stiff until the wife could thaw the bastard in a pre-heated car.

So my means were very limited indeed. However I did have a strong notion to at least use what little ice I had brought, get rid of the fucking thimbles and introduce a real down down using the traditional Selangore pewter mugs that Muff-Diver and I had collected over time.

Through out the years as a Whip I had developed a keen sense to observe offences during the run BEFORE they ever happen. I had put the sense to good use, and so I began my long list of penalties for all the petty offences I had (thought to have) observed during the run. Of course a lot of the usual pleading was going on and many even ventured out to uphold that the offence had never even occurred. However here, as it is custom in Singapore the Whip has the undisputed authority and is always right.

Several down downs later the complaining and howling was replaced with an infernal din, a mixture of songs and shouts like "Ice the bastard...", "the Whip is a really nice guy..." and "charge the piss pot!!". With enough beer already in my veins, my concern for freezing over was replaced with a confidence that I had done quite what I could in the ways of anti-icing and it was beginning to feel a lot like your usual Tuesday night.

Contemplating the very questionable looks of the now uneasy and nervous wives I thought it was about time to put an end to all the misery, grief and cajoling for more and severer punishment. I was about to ice all thirteen hashers for bringing spouses to the circle when I suddenly realized that this was the ONLY way that a hash could be conducted here in Germany at all. Did I really want to make an offence out of it?

A part of me thought, "to hell with it, ice them anyway! And the wives for good measure as well" the other part of me thought: "Sweet Jesus, now what in the world is driving me to all THIS lunacy, already??"

And the sky opened for a moment and a ray of light shone down and I saw the light: and it suddenly became apparent to me that it must be lunacy itself that drives us true hashers to the hash. The ability to consciously step out of our defined roles in life and behave like morons on an outing from the asylum. The ability to make a complete fool of one self with no more serious consequences than being iced by the whip - and this incredible feeling of belonging to a strong brotherhood of equally minded people around the world. And for my very own self: to be, once again (however remotely) connected to some of the finest men I have had the privilege to know: the boys from the Seletar Hash House Harriers.

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the Seletar Hash on this capital achievement of 1313 runs. I say capital because for over 25 years the Seletar Hash has continuously and substantially influenced the lives of so many men that came and had to leave again - one way or the other.

Seletar Hash House Harriers has managed to uphold their traditions not only through out all of these years and a continuously changing membership body but also through times of great difficulties (economic down turn, haze, SARS etc.). That is the true achievement in these times of massive, global change.

I hope that 10 years from now I can still come a see the same bastards on ice, drink the same down downs and above all: see the same camaraderie that I have had the honor to witness during my years with the Seletar boys.

God bless you all,

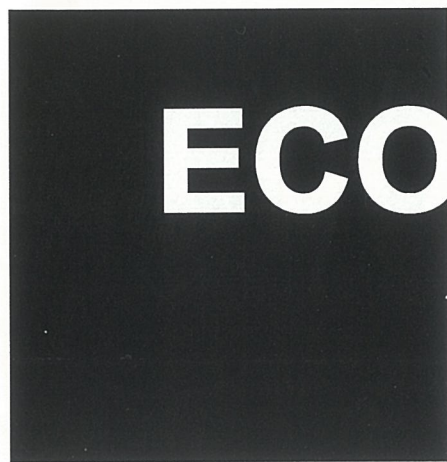

Your humble servant and Ex-Whip

HASHING THROUGH THE EYES OF A TRULY RETIRED SOLDIER, MK 4 Or 5, what the hell, can't f##### remember, lah - Fatimah

It's being quite a while, since I had put pen to paper. Met Opto at the 50ies run, big bloody mistake, and the old bastard twisted my arms to come up with an article for the mag.... was pretty hard to say no to the pathetic looking doctor.

A lot has happened since I wrote the last article. I have not been coming regularly, ever since the accident. This is personal and I have the Club to thank for being at my side when everything looked so bleak and useless. Ben, that's the son was involved in a near fatal accident, some 2 and a half years ago. He was in the hospital for the better part of a year, with a major part of it in the ICU and high dependency ward. A lot of the guys and their families came to see and support the family and me at the hospital.....to you guys my heart felt thanks. The committee swung into action and Ben becomes the charity for that year. Thanks guys, I wish I could name you guys, but it would be near impossible.....as all ways Seletar went over and beyond...I will forever be indebted to you, guys.

Now as the far as the club is concerned, it has also gone through the mill. There was the passing of 3 illustrious members. Mohammad Ali, Snake Eater and Nonok. I remember all there guys very vividly and it was with a heavy heart that I heard the loss of each of them.

I did not know how to remember them by and when Opto asked me to pen another one in the series, I decided to dedicate this to the three fallen but not forgotten hashmen.

When I first joined Seletar, in the eighties, I saw Ali, the only Malay guy and he was playing the guitar, only later I knew that he was the Bard, I recognized him. I was in the Army, at Nee Soon Camp, and there was a fire there one night along the row of shops. The alarm was raised and before the Fire Brigade could come, I had activated my ah kows and we were trying to contain the fire. I was at this shop selling sporting goods and its owner; a Chinese lady was trying to retrieve some papers. But the fire was getting a bit too hot for her and I got my ah kows in to the shop and get the stuff for her. Later the firemen came and we left. The next morning I saw the aftermath and I also happen to see the same Chinese lady. This time she was with a Malay guy; this was Mohammad Ali. I introduced myself and we became good friends. He wasn't good at running and his guitar work wasn't all that great but he was great company. Helped him lay a run sometime ago with his "brother" Perut Besar. We ran into a pack of dogs kept by this farmer. They were barking like hell. Me and ah kows ran like the wind with Perut behind, Ali was nowhere to be found. I went back to look for him and was shock to see him singing some shit to the dogs! Ali was quite a character. Went through some bad patch but true to his name bounced back. Wife Stella and a couple of kids survive him. Stella was a good supporter of the hashmen from all the chapters but more so with Seletar.

Snake Eater is one or a kind. He had found his calling in the Army and had served with the best for a long time. I had known this dick head when we were both about 20 years old. We were both Cpls and were on a course. It was a tough course but both of us completed it and went our separate ways. We used to meet once in a while at military functions and at the NCO club down Beach Road. One day during a NDP thank you dinner, I ran into MWO Sam Choo that incidentally was his official rank and name. It was a Tuesday and I was also the hare for that run. I had finished all the work and my co hare, Opto, was holding the fort. It was also an eat out at some joint at Boon Lay. So after the thank you party, I invited Sam over for the eat out. He came and was quite impressed at what he saw and heard. I remembered seeing Juicy and a few other Chinamen with Sam just before I left close to midnight. I did not see or talked to Sam after that. Come next Tuesday, I was pleasantly surprised to see him on the run! He stayed for the run and the full 10 yards. All who were there fell in love with him. The noisiest arsehole there both on the run and in the circle. Whip was Mad Dog and I had to share the ice with this idiot, as I was responsible for bringing him there. MWO was a true blue soldier and had been the RSM of the toughest and the best unit and formation in the SAF, so I could not imagine how he could fit in with such a motley bunch of guys, who by nature give any ranking person a hard time. But Sam captivated us with his antics and his reports of the run, which usually sounded like a classified military operation!

He was a natural hasher. Going out stations run was always fun but with Sam around it was more than fun, it was interesting and educational, to say the least! I remembered his hash christening. It was a Sam classic. There he was on ice awaiting his baptism, as usual with his mouth on over drive and his famous words "Name me anything you want but idiot". Hell there was one big thunder "IDIOT" from the circle and whatever name the Whip had was gone and Sam became the Idiot! The arsehole did not what hit him! He walked around for a few weeks like a zombie, later I learned from a friend that he wants to resign because of this name. I spoke to Idiot and yes it was true, so we went back to the Whip, Rainbow, and then gave him the name that he actually wanted, SNAKE EATER. And Snake eater it was.

There never was a happier hashman than Snake Eater. He had converted his office to a hash store! Working hours were used for hash projects, like sign boards, key box and so forth. He later retired and joined a garbage-recycling factory and he was bringing stuff that had been thrown away by companies that did not meet their standards and gave them to hashmen.

Things like shaving cream, he gave me enough to last me a couple of years, track shoes, hell he even brought snacks and distributed them at the circle and everyone was munching away happily without knowing that these had been thrown away by the manufacturers!

The few out stations run that I went with him were truly fantastic. I mean, we always had fun on the bus while traveling, but Snake took it a step further. The first time we had him along was to Sg. Ujong. He treated this as a military expedition! Till all in the bus fucked him, then he loosened up a bit. With all the beers on the bus, Snake was tasked to conduct the Piss breaks. He did it so well that the bus driver wanted to leave him behind because his pee breaks was every 509 ms or so!

We reached Sg. Ujong and those poor bastards never knew what hit them! Firstly they had FATIMAH, me, then the next time they had MADONA, then this time SNAKE Eater! It was fun and it was memorial. He was my best worker during the celebration runs that we had to host. With his passing we have lost a legend and I, a true friend. But in true tradition, Snake has got his son, Lincoln, to join the Guzzlers and the tradition carries on. Welcome to Seletar, SOS!

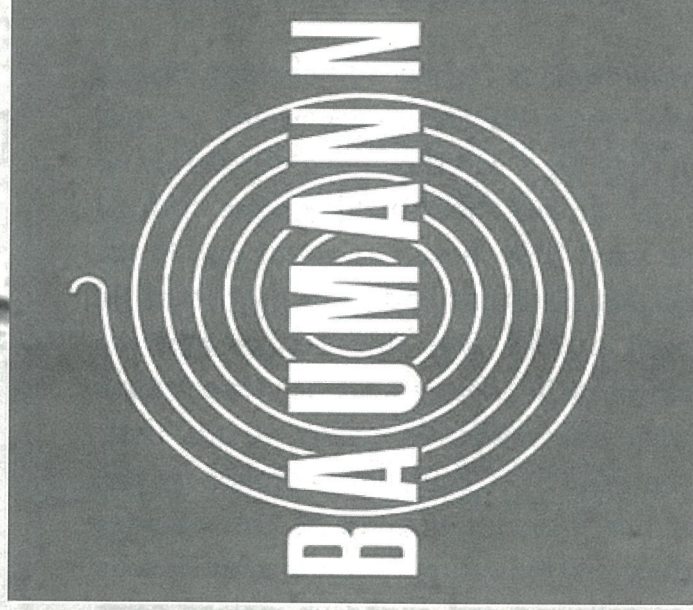

NONOK was a "junior" member but nevertheless treasured hashman. Nonok was known for laying celebration runs, which he and Congo would always, volunteered. These pair of cunts when they lay a run they have absolutely no inkling of time and space! They would just go out there and lay some shit till their legs give out! I remembered the very first time they went out to lay the long run, Boo Chee Bye gave them his blessings and than regretted it. Even the Kwilohs could not make it back on time. The first runner was in a couple of hrs late and there were people still coming in 3 hrs later! Both these cunts quietly left Echo Valley when the Whip was looking to zap their asses! Nonok was also out spoken at the AGMS. If I am not mistaken we are having blackies on the run because of him. Nonok had came to this country following the handing of Hong Kong over and he was a forex trader and he given some tips which some of us had followed and ended up making some money. This was one strange Honkee! The only Cantonese speaking Bhai!

He was one of the few front running bhai who would break the checks and fuck up the slower runners together with Congo, and than get their arses freezed by the whip!

If you ever need a pair of hares to lay a ball-breaker run, this is the pair you look for!

Yes, Seletar has lost some wonderful and colorful characters. There was GIGI, who had resigned because of poor health. Many thought that his last days were last year! But he is still around. He may not be with us but he remembers all of you guys, some more than others. His mind is still as sharp as ever and he can still give you hell!

May the departed hashers find peace wherever they are and together with all the other hashmen up there, I hope that they start the celestial hash with the big hashman up there! I know the Snake and Nonok are not just going to waste their time up there! These guys will always be in our hearts and minds of all true blue hashers. They made Tuesdays a lot of fun There are now a lot of new faces and my fervent hope is that the older guys pass on the knowledge and the warmth these guys had generated at the circle and beyond.

WE MISS YOU MOHAMAD ALI, SNAKE EATER AND NONOK. THOUGH YOU ARE GONE YOU WILL NOT BE FORGOTTEN. THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES! BE HAPPY WHEREVER YOU ARE AND ON, ON TILL OUR TIME COMES!
